GENERAL NEWS.

Help Wanted for the Missouri Flood Sufferers.

THE WATERS SLOWLY RECEDING.

Death of Miss Hattie Buell from Starvation—The Villard Suit on Trial—Various Reports from Various Railroads, etc.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

NEW YORK, April 12.—St. Louis and San Francisco railway bonds and shares [illegible] several per cent yesterday in London and here, owing to the great success of the Atlantic and Pacific Railway Company's loan. Subscription books will be opened tomorrow in London.

It is the intention of the officials of the Denver and Rio Grande to lay 500 miles of road during 1881, if they can procure a sufficient amount of labor. The total number of miles of road laid during the past year was 367.

The Villard Case.

NEW YORK, April 12.—The case of Villard vs. Northern Pacific Railroad Co. to obtain permanent injunction restraining [illegible] of the road from distributing $15,000,000 of stock is before the court today.

NEW YORK, April 12.—In the case of Henry Villard vs. The Northern Pacific Railroad today, Col. Gray denied that the defendant corporation issued shares to proprietary holders without consideration or in violation of its charter, or that it was effected in violation of any protest of stockholders. Arguments were delivered by Jere Black, D. Skipman and Benj. H. Bristow. Adjourned till tomorrow.

Business Failure.

NEW YORK, April 12.—Kunzie Bros., brewers, assigned today; preferences, $109,000; liabilities, $417,000.

Base Ball Association.

Base ball players have organized the eastern championship association, W. W. White of Washington, president.

Fire on a Steamer.

Haverly's Mastodon Minstrels and other passengers extinguished a fire on the steamer Erastus Corning, bound to New Haven last night. Boat considerably damaged.

Schaefer-Slosson.

The first game in the billiard match of 4000 points between Slosson and Schaefer was played to-night at the Academy of Music. Eight hundred points are to be played each night for five consecutive nights; stakes, $2,000. The latter secured the lead and missed the second shot. Slosson secured six and Schaefer nothing in the second inning. Schaefer secured 45 in the 4th inning to Slosson's 5. At the end of the 24th inning the score stood: Schaefer 111, Slosson 152. Schaefer made scores of 22, 20, 50, [illegible] 11, and Slosson of 115, 174 and 119. Schaefer's total, 803; Slosson's total, 517.

NEW YORK, April 12.—There was great interest in the second night of the Schaefer-Slosson billiard contest. When the 26th inning was reached Schaefer had 1581, Slosson 783. Schaefer ran 250 and 150 and closed the game for the evening. Slosson's highest scores, 45 and 84; Slosson's total, 240; grand total, 997. Schaefer's total, 900; grand total, 1800. Slosson was greatly angered by a claim of foul set up by Schaefer's umpire, and denounced him to his face as no gentleman, and insisted on his withdrawal. The matter was smoothed over, but the unsteady play of the champion was the evident result of his being unnerved by the incident. Schaefer was correspondingly confident.

Strike—"No Seat, No Fare."

NEW YORK, April 12.—[illegible] on the West [illegible] Railroad strike for 20 per cent advance today and got it. Citizens are agitating the "no seat, no fare" movement.

More Immigrants.

NEW YORK, April 12.—Over 2000 Germans and 600 Italians arrived today, and for the most part were soon on their way west.

A Rumor.

The Commercial Bulletin says that there is talk of a syndicate of bankers organizing to take 6 per cents. from holders who want their money, and have them extended at 3½.

Death of Chicago Pioneers.

CHICAGO, April 12.—Two old settlers of Chicago have passed away. Mark Beaubien, who came here in 1826 and achieved great fame as a tavern keeper, died this morning, being 89 years of age. He was the father of 26 children. David McKee, who came here in 1822 as blacksmith to the U. S. troops, who were then the only whites on the spot, died at Aurora Saturday, also 80 years old. His first friends here were the Pottawattomies, who owned the land.

Prospects for a Good Season at Chicago.

CHICAGO, April 12.—The Tribune's interviews today establish the fact that the wages of the builders and day laborers will be 20 per cent higher the coming season than last, and that the price of building materials will be 10 per cent higher. Nevertheless there promises to be great activity in building. A thousand people per month are coming to the city by immigration alone, and the demand for houses to conduct business is constantly growing, especially in suburban towns, where building is very lively.

The Business Center of Chicago.

The Inter-Ocean announces that Carson, Pirie, Scott & Co., large wholesale and retail dry goods dealers here, have secured a building at the corner of State and Adams streets. They will establish there one of the largest retail establishments in the western states. This is important not only as indicating the activity of business, but as showing that the tendency is more and more to establish the trade center further to the south of Madison street and to build up business there.

Signal Defeat.

HARRISBURG, April 12.—The house refused to pass a bill approving the president's appointments, and asking Pennsylvania senators to vote for them.

Sitting Bull.

FORT BUFORD, April 12.—A courier just arrived from Poplar river reports that Capt. McDonald, of the northwestern mounted police with a party of three Indians, one a nephew of Sitting Bull, arrived at that point to arrange for the surrender of Sitting Bull. Capt. McDonald says that should these coming with him report favorably of their treatment and that of other captives at Buford on their return to Sitting Bull's camp, that the chief will undoubtedly surrender immediately, the whole camp probably starting for Buford on his (McDonald's) return.

Death of Hattie Buell.

IOWA CITY, April 11.—Hattie Buell finished starving to death yesterday, after 47 days of fasting. During the 35 hours preceding her death Miss Buell drank no water, it seeming to sicken her. Her pulse in the morning was imperceptible and respiration 35 per minute. She was able to communicate with friends by means of her fingers and said that she was not hungry. Her last moments were very peaceful and mind clear.

IOWA CITY, April 12.—Miss Hattie Buell, who died at noon yesterday, was buried this afternoon. Immediately after her death a post mortem examination was made by Dr. [illegible], dean of the [illegible] department, the university. Not a drop of blood was found in the body, which weighed forty-nine pounds. The stomach was devoid of any substance. No further analysis has yet been made public.

Storm in Pennsylvania.

MILFORD, Pa., April 12.—A heavy snow storm here. Forest fires will be checked. Snow and hail has been falling since 6 o'clock.

Steamboat Explosion at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, April 11.—Word has just reached the city that the little steamer Daisy, belonging to the Missouri Furnace Company, to South St. Louis, while crossing the river at that point at 2:15 this afternoon blew out a cylinder head. This seems to have exploded the boat and her boiler burst, when she capsized and sank. Some 15 to 20 workmen were on the boat, being conveyed to the company's works on the east side of the river, two of whom were drowned. The remainder were picked up by a ferryboat and the railroad transfer boat.

Swindlers Shown Up.

DENVER, Col., April 12.—This morning's News contains startling revelations concerning the history of the president of the board of directors of the Commercial bank of this city, which was incorporated on the 21st of last February with a capital of $100,000 and a subscription reserve fund of equal amount. The board of directors consists of James L. Van Wert, president; Ellen M. Van Wert, cashier, and P. S. Rice, Horace W. Cotton and P. T. Smith, directors. The News says that these people evidently had plans well laid towards perpetrating a gigantic swindle, and continues substantially as follows: Van Wert, the president, served six years in the penitentiary at Charlestown, Mass., for passing counterfeit money in 1861. He subsequently started a bogus bank at Winsted, Conn., himself as president and his wife as cashier. He disappeared, leaving many debts and swindling hundreds of people, [illegible] are pending over his head, and he is accused of many other crimes. His associates are, with the exception of Cotton and Smith, of the same stripe. Rice is well known to the police, and there is an indictment against him at Leadville for obtaining money under false pretenses. Van Wert was to leave today for New York to place $10,000 of stock belonging to the Longmont, Middle Park and Pacific railroad.

The Texas Pacific Management.

PHILADELPHIA, April 12.—The directors of the Texas Pacific have accepted the resignation of Thos. A. Scott, president of the road and elected Jay Gould to succeed him. Gould and Houston retired from the board and Thos. T. Eckert was elected. It is stated that Gould purchased Scott's four million dollars interest in the road.

Disastrous Explosion.

[illegible], April 12.—David Downey and Michael Broderic were killed and John Murray severely injured by the explosion of a nitro glycerine cartridge.

On Trial.

NEWBURGH, April 12.—The trial of Beaumont B. Buck, [illegible] a cadet at West Point, for shooting [illegible] Thompson in June last at Highland Falls, [illegible]

Fire at Wheeling.

WHEELING, April 12.—This morning [illegible] furniture manufactory burned. It was [illegible] is a total loss, $60,000 insurance.

Elevator to be Built at Council Bluffs.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, April 12.—An elevator company has been organized of which the managers of railroad companies are directors. An elevator will be built this summer with a capacity of 4½ million bushels.

The Waters Receding.

The river is [illegible] within its banks. No damage in the city.

Scheme to bring French Railroad Engineers and Laborers to America.

DENVER, April 12.—The Republican publishes a statement as emanating from a Denver & Rio Grande official, that that company intend importing 20,000 Frenchmen and a corps of French engineers at an early day to work on the Denver & Rio Grande extension.

The [illegible] says that Count De Langeand, who has been in charge of the Mexican national survey and construction, will go to France to organize a corps of engineers and educate them in American railroad work and manner of operation. When this work is finished the corps will be dispatched to different parts of the country each to secure a squad of laborers and instruct them as to future work. When 20,000 are secured, the squads will concentrate in Paris and be transported to New York, thence overland without delay. The informant believes that a majority of them would be distributed chiefly on the Mexican and Salt Lake divisions. Langeand has been ordered to report here for instruction, and is expected to arrive in about two weeks and start immediately for Paris.

Railroad Transportation.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 12.—Articles of consolidation of the Buffalo, Cleveland & Chicago railway of New York, the Buffalo, Cleveland & Chicago railway of Pennsylvania, the New York & Chicago railway of Ohio, the New York & Chicago railway of Indiana, and the New York & Chicago railway of Illinois, under the name of the New York, Chicago & St. Louis railway, were filed with the secretary of state today. The capital stock is $35,300,000, of which $1,000,000 is to be preferred and bear 7 per cent. interest. The directors are C. B. Cummings, Dan. P. Eels, Calvin S. Brice, Chas. Foster, Sam'l Thomas, Geo. R. Seney, John T. Martin, Edward H. R. Lyman, Walston H. Brown, Wm. Fleming and Alex. M. White. The road is to be a through trunk line from Buffalo to Chicago. This is a final incorporation which completes all preliminary arrangements.

An Old Story.

[illegible], Mass., April 12.—Charles A. Briggs, aged [illegible], shot Chas. Stetson dead during a dance at Putnam. Stetson had separated from his wife whom Briggs had taken to the party.

New York Growls again at the Streets.

There is great dissatisfaction in the city, which found utterance tonight in a meeting of citizens to protest against a defect in the street cleaning bill. Resolutions were adopted that the cleaning of the streets should be divorced from politics, and that the mayor should have control of it. Many instances of frauds and lobbying in the matter were evidenced.

A Shower of Sulphur.

PEORIA, Ills., April 12.—A shower of sulphur fell during a rain last night.

Terrible Storm in Mississippi.

HERNANDO, April 12.—A severe wind storm passed over the country north of Hernando this P.M. Dr. Lauderdale and wife were severely injured. Several negroes are reported killed, but owing to the swollen condition of creeks it is impossible to obtain fuller particulars. Hernando is twenty miles south of Memphis.

From Yankton—Great Suffering and Damage to Property.

YANKTON, April 12.—The Missouri is gradually subsiding, though it is still up to the height of from ten to 30 feet along the bank and on bars and bottoms. Yankton is filling with refugees from low lands and the people are doing their best to care for them. Outside help is needed as the resources of the citizens are not adequate to the demand. Thousands of people are rendered homeless and all they possess is swept away. Nearly all the stock on low lands, hundreds or thousands of head, were drowned, and farm houses and villages are submerged or floating about in the water. On the site of Green Island, a town of 20 houses, but one remains and the ice there is from 10 to 20 feet deep. The bottom from here to Big Sioux, 60 miles long and from 5 to 10 wide, is still under water.

Yankton parties are still out, yawls bringing in people. Yankton is almost destitute of fuel and coal oil and short of provisions and the winter [illegible] holds increasing suffering among homeless farmers who have been drowned out. All railroads north and west of here snowed in. Damages to steamboat property will amount to $80,000, including two boats sunk, the Western and the [illegible]. The steamers Peninah, Nellie Peck, Belle, Helena, Black Hills, Josephine, [illegible], Meal and Big Horn are all lying high up on the ice for inland. They are damaged to the extent of $30,000, but will be put afloat as soon as the weather will permit, probably inside of 30 days. Losses to property in general cannot be estimated but are very great, and the end is not yet. The season of floods has only begun and the entire Missouri slope is [illegible] snow.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

The Land Bill.

LONDON, April 12.—At a land league [illegible] Dublin [illegible] the land bill, Parnell [illegible]

[illegible]

Finnegan, M. P., liberal and advanced nationalist, in a speech at Ennis gave great credit to [illegible] for the land bill.

Dillon, speaking at [illegible], Tipperary Co., condemned the land bill as incomplete and unsatisfactory and warned tenant farmers against [illegible] accept it.

Dillon said that the bill, if passed, would destroy the power of the land league. A resolution was passed declaring the bill inadequate.

It was also resolved that a league convention be held on the 21st and 22d of April, to determine upon a course of action. Meantime the views of branches of the league will be ascertained.

A Conservative Victory.

A parliamentary election at [illegible], made vacant by the death of Sir Charles Reed, liberal, resulted in a victory for the conservatives. Vote: Ross (conservative), [illegible]; Pender (liberal), [illegible].

Booth Coming Home.

LONDON, April 12.—Edwin Booth will probably cancel engagements and return to America with his wife.

Beaconsfield.

LONDON, April 12.—Beaconsfield passed a restless day and had a severe attack of difficult breathing at 7 this evening.

The Outrage in the East.

Suter, the Englishman captured by brigands [illegible] for ransom, [illegible] the Russo-Turkish war a correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, [illegible]. Since the conclusion of the war he has visited Texas.

From Athens.

ATHENS, April 12.—The departure of troops to the frontier continues. Information from Constantinople which is entitled to full credit states that Germany has secretly encouraged the sultan to withstand the pressure of the powers. The Greek world is firmly convinced that Germany desires war and that if Greece accepts peace war will come too late for her to profit by it.

The Floods in Hungary.

VIENNA, April 12.—Floods in Hungary are increasing. The waters soaked and undermined dykes which are giving way. The latest news from Szegedin is that other dykes are in danger, and two thousand men are at work strengthening them. If the outer dyke fails the whole country to the dyke which immediately surrounds the town will be flooded, and high winds would probably drive waves over the dykes and cause a great catastrophe.

VIENNA, April 12.—The weather at Szegedin is more favorable and all outer dikes are safe. Accounts from other places are also more favorable, but danger is by no means passed.

A Nihilist Leader Arrested in Roumania.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 12.—Nicholas [illegible], an important Nihilist recently arrested at Jassy by Roumanian authorities, was implicated in the [illegible], but escaped punishment by decamping first to England and then to America. He afterwards returned to Roumania. He was formerly in the Kieff university and a companion of the notorious nihilists Deutch and Steppanovitch. The Russian government has taken steps for his extradition.

A Russian Defeat.

BERLIN, April 12.—It is reported that [illegible], the most advanced fort on the road to Merv, was taken by surprise and captured by Turcomans and the entire Russian garrison killed.

Socialist Meeting Forbidden.

BERLIN, April 12.—The police have forbidden under the socialist law, the holding of a meeting which Herr Bebel was to address at Munich.

Another Shake Up.

CHIOS, April 12.—A violent shock of earthquake, lasting four seconds and increasing gradually in strength, passed over the island today, followed by falling houses on all sides.

An Ecclesiastical Question.

BERLIN, April 12.—A dispatch to the National Zeitung from Vienna, believed to be inspired by the Prussian government, declares that the refusal of the Berlin government to recognize the nominee of the chapter of Treves as administrator of the bishopric will not arrest the negotiations with the Vatican, which are approaching conclusion. The pope, under the influence of Cardinal Jacobini, his secretary, desires peace with Germany, and the centre party in Berlin has been instructed to avoid any action tending to create a prejudicial impression.

The Prussian government party is entirely uninformed with regard to the negotiations. The attitude of the clerical press no doubt deserve consideration in arriving at a proper appreciation of the true state of things.

Horrible, Most Horrible.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 12.—Earthquake shocks of considerable violence continue at Chios. Nearly 20 houses remain habitable in the whole island. Forty-two villages are destroyed and the population in many localities has absolutely disappeared.

From Chio.

CHIO, April 12.—I have now visited and obtained information regarding nearly all villages in the southern half of the island, and I believe that the number killed in all the villages in question does not much exceed one thousand and perhaps less.

BOSTON, April 12.—The American board of foreign missions today received a telegram from their missionary at Smyrna, relating the terrible disaster at Chio and appealing for aid for the sufferers. The board announced a willingness to receive contributions.

Boer Treachery.

LONDON, April 12.—A dispatch from Fort Amiel says that the Boer leaders submitted to Gen. Wood that [illegible] who commanded the siege of Potchefstroom obtained its surrender by suppressing news of the armistice which they promised should be communicated to the garrisons. The leaders expressed regret and proposed that the capitulation be considered as cancelled, and acquiesced in reoccupation of Potchefstroom. Wood accepted the apology and proposals.

WASHINGTON CITY.

The Purposes of General James' New Postal Commission.

MORE CHRISTIANCY MUD.

Prospects of an all Summer Session of the Senate—How the President Proposes to rid Himself of Office Seekers, Etc., Etc.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Mrs. Blaine, Mrs. [illegible], Mrs. Pendleton, Mrs. Logan, Mrs. Harlan and other ladies known in Washington society and throughout the country appeal to the people of the United States to render assistance to the sufferers from the disastrous earthquake in Chio. They earnestly appeal to the pastors of all churches, Catholic, Protestant and Hebrew, to take up a collection in their several congregations at the earliest practicable moment, and pray the presidents of boards of trade and managers of all incorporated institutions to circulate subscription papers that the rich may have immediate opportunity to give of their wealth, and the poor of their poverty, through channels that shall soonest reach the famishing sufferers whom nature could not spare, and whom humanity must restore. Riggs & Co., Washington, will receive all moneys collected.

Hard Fortune of a Turncoat Politician.

The Evening Star publishes a letter from a South Carolina republican, correcting a widely circulated story that ex-Congressman Rainey is [illegible] in the streets of Charleston. Rainey, who is a man of [illegible] in South Carolina since last fall, and while there he was engaged in attending to his official duties as special agent of the treasury department. He is now similarly occupied in New England. The correspondent adds that the dispatch no doubt refers to ex-Lieut. Gov. Ransier who was a member of the 43d congress from the Charleston district. After being defeated for every office in the republican party for which he came up, from the lieutenant governorship to that of contractor for chimney sweeping in the city of Charleston, Ransier threw his fortunes in with the democratic party and supported Hampton and the home rule ticket in 1876. This is his reward. He has been appointed by the democratic administration of Charleston to the position of common laborer upon the public streets and daily may be seen plying that humble vocation.

Washington Items.

The president is reported to be much annoyed by the presence in the city of a large number of federal officeholders, who are here to look after their own reappointments or help friends secure situations, and it is currently reported among senators that he intends to issue an order directing all such officials who are absent without leave to return to their homes within a week under penalty of removal if they do not do so.

It is reported today that [illegible] to have the Mexican mission, and that [illegible]

Ex-Congressman Price arrived here today [illegible] of the Indian offices as well as [illegible] confirmed.

What the New Postal Commission is Expected to Do.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The commission recently appointed by Postmaster-General James to conduct an inspection of the postal service, has for its object [illegible] with a view of remedying any defect which may exist, and of adding efficiency. The [illegible] of the new postmaster-general is to administer the department on business principles. While he has no idea that it can be made absolutely self-sustaining, he is firmly impressed with the belief that its usefulness can be further extended among business classes. It was at the instance of the commission to inquire into the efficiency of the clerical force of the department, [illegible]. In short, the duty of the commission is to examine thoroughly into all the branches of the postal department, and submit their conclusions in writing to the postmaster general.

The Christiancy Scandal.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The taking of testimony on behalf of Mrs. Christiancy in the divorce suit brought against her by her husband was commenced before an examiner this afternoon. Mrs. Christiancy, her mother and another lady were present. [illegible]

Officers to be Retired.

The commission of Paymaster-General [illegible] will expire August next, when [illegible]. Capt. Wm. B. Whiting [illegible] bureau of navigation [illegible] physical disability.

The Coming Celebration.

The U. S. steamer Despatch leaves for Fortress Monroe and Yorktown. Secretary Blaine will be a guest at Mount Vernon [illegible] proposed site for a monument to be erected at the home of George Washington.

A Distinguished Orator.

The president will deliver an address at the [illegible] town centennial.

Telephone Arrangement.

At a conference tonight between a committee of the telephone subscribers' association and officers of the telephone company, the company agreed to furnish telephone connection with [illegible] at an annual charge of $25 [illegible] same period.

Relief Asked for the Sufferers by Flood in Dakota.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—[illegible] of the territory of Dakota, called upon the president and secretary of war today to urge the importance of immediate assistance for that part of the territory [illegible]. The governor reported the destitute condition of the sufferers and their inability to [illegible], and asked the secretary of war to authorize the issuing of government rations as was done at the time of the floods in Mississippi a few years ago. The matter was referred by the president to the secretary of war, who promised immediate attention.

In conference with the president and Secretary Lincoln, Gov. Ordway [illegible] Secretary Lincoln has telegraphed Gen. Terry at St. Paul to use his discretion in issuing and distributing supplies and clothing from government stores to people along the river from Yankton to Vermillion where the greatest destitution prevails. It is hoped that this measure of relief will be sufficient. Gov. Ordway telegraphed the acting governor to draw upon him personally if necessary, to relieve immediate suffering.

Bruce Declines the Brazilian Mission.

Ex-Senator Bruce, of Mississippi, who [illegible] the Brazilian mission, declined [illegible] on the ground that the country is unhealthy, and that he would not take his family there, and also on the ground that in Brazil a colored man would not specially be well received. Bruce will, it is said, be provided with a good position within the United States.

A California Matter.

Democrats of California have been in correspondence with senator Farley on the subject of the apportionment bill pending before the California legislature. The democrats assert it is unfair, and Farley telegraphed tonight to democratic members of the legislature to resist and resort to filibustering if necessary.

DIVORCE AND POLYGAMY.

Resolutions by an Episcopal Conference at New York.

NEW YORK, April 12.—At the New York Episcopal conference yesterday a report on divorce and polygamy was read. The report stated that divorces were obtained on the most frivolous pretexts in New England. The proportion of divorces was one to eleven marriages. The frequency with which divorces were obtained and laxity of popular sentiment on the subject were shocking. It was not to be disguised that severance of the marriage tie was the direct outgrowth of the proceedings of [illegible] seeking for new alliances. The report concluded: "While we admit the right of separation for sufficient cause, resolved that we recognize no ground for divorce except violation of the seventh commandment. Whom God hath joined together let no man put asunder. Resolved, that we will refuse to marry or [illegible] who are divorced on [illegible]." In reference to polygamy the report stated that the pretended right of one man to more than one wife was an attempt to rob some other man of his, and involved the equal right of women to more than one husband. By the laws of Christian nations polygamy was held as a high crime against society and punishable by a heavy penalty. Utah had been and was now in an attitude of defiance against the nation. The [illegible] was overflowing into other territories and in conjunction with communists threatened to infect the nation. [illegible] this matter had already become a national wrong if not a crime. Under the flimsy pretext of polygamy as an article of religious belief the Mormons claimed immunity and indulged in their hellish lusts. In conclusion

Resolved, That we heartily approve President Garfield's inaugural address on this subject, and pledge our support for the extirpation of this hideous wrong, we, representatives in part of the Christian church and ministry protest against the outrage.

Resolved, That needed legislation and enforcement of law ought to be had without delay for suppression of this reeking iniquity; and if these fail we commend the use of the stronger military arm.

So much of the report as refers to polygamy be sent to President Garfield and the New York state senators, and that part relating to divorce to Gov. Cornell. The report was adopted.

Catarrhal

POISON

Wei De Meyer's Treatise on Catarrh, exposing the following important facts:

1. That Catarrhal Colds become a poisonous infection, at first local, and many constitutional.
2. That, being constitutional, the infection is beyond the reach of mere local remedies.
3. That impurities in the nostrils, are necessarily swallowed into the stomach and inhaled into the lungs, thus poisoning the Digestive, Respiratory and Genito-urinary organs.
4. That Catarrhal virus follows the mucous membrane and causes Deafness, Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhea, Bronchitis, Leucorrhea, and Consumption.
5. That Smokes, Douches, Inhalations, and Insipid Snuffs, cannot possibly remove infectious inflammation from the organs named.
6. That an antidote for Catarrh must possess an inoculative affinity for, and the quality of being absorbed by, the purulent mucous wherever located.

Based upon these plain theories, Dr. Wei De Meyer's Catarrh Cure has proved to be infallible. It not only relieves, it cures Catarrh at any stage. Home testimony:

OFFICE OF THE

OF CALIFORNIA.

TO OUR POLICY HOLDERS AND THE GENERAL PUBLIC OF OREGON AND WASHINGTON TERRITORY:

The first consideration with applicants for life insurance is, or at least should be, SAFETY. Will the money paid on for the policy be prudently invested? Are the affairs of the Company honestly and efficiently administered? When the policy becomes a claim will it be promptly paid, and thus the object which induced the payment of the premium be fully attained? These are queries naturally suggested, and the character of the answers determines the course of the questioner and the selection of his company.

In this connection, the Managers of the PACIFIC MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY respectfully beg leave to submit the following facts and statements concerning their Company:

1. Since its organization, A. D. 1868, it has paid 367 death losses, on policies amounting in the aggregate to $987,708.

2. IT HAS PAID TO POLICY HOLDERS, FOR MATURED ENDOWMENTS, DIVIDENDS, AND SURRENDER VALUES, IN ROUND NUMBERS, $1,000,000.

3. It has repeatedly been examined by SWORN EXPERTS, and most thorough and searching investigations made of its condition and business, and in EVERY CASE its solvency and trustworthiness have been demonstrated.

4. Its stockholders and directors are widely known as among the most capable business men and ablest financiers of the State of California, and the integrity of their management is unquestioned.

5. The laws of the State, including the constitutional provisions affecting corporations, are of the most rigid character, such as to make the Company one of the safest institutions of its kind.

Section 3 of Article XII. of the NEW CONSTITUTION of the State of California is as follows:

[illegible]

THE PACIFIC MUTUAL IS THE ONLY LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY LOANING MONEY UPON REAL ESTATE ON THE PACIFIC COAST.

It has loaned more than $2,000,000 upon approved Real Estate to citizens of this coast, thus materially aiding in the development of the natural resources of the country, and affording PALPABLE and INDISPUTABLE evidence of its financial strength.

A considerable portion of the sum mentioned has been loaned in Oregon and Washington Territory, and still further sums are now being loaned there.

The following is a list of DEATH LOSSES paid in Oregon and Washington Territory, together with amount of premium paid in each case:

THE CHINESE COMMERCIAL TREATY.

More than merely visionary are the predictions of some sanguine people that in the future — remote though it may be — the Pacific coast of America will enjoy a remarkably large commerce with the populous countries of China and Japan. But a few years ago and the Chinese government, as well as the Japanese, was most exclusive in its policy. It forbade the entrance of foreigners upon its territory; it prohibited the introduction of all modern improvements in art, and would have nothing of modern science taught or promulgated among its subjects. Shut up from the outside world by customs and superstitions which had been believed in and practiced for a hundred generations, China stood a third of a century ago just where she had stood for a thousand years excelling the most civilized nations, in some respects, and being scarcely equal to the most savage in others. With a wonderful aptness to learn, her people for the greatest part have remained in the grossest ignorance. The few treaties that have been made with either China or Japan, have been made under a sort of alliance of all commercial nations trading with those countries, under the lead of England as having the largest naval force and being more able to emphasize her request. The treaty of the United States with China known as the Burlingame treaty, though very objectionable in this country in some of its features was the entering wedge to a new order of things in our commercial relations with the latter country, the development of which has been very slow, but the results of which are at last beginning to manifest themselves in awakening something of a spirit of progress in that slow moving and sluggish empire. A sign that they want to learn comes in the shape of a curious request that the government of the United States would let them have the loan of an admiral to reorganize their navy and put it upon a footing to compare in some respects with those of other nations. This request has been favorably received and approved by Secretary Blaine, which action suggests that by an independent enlightened and liberal policy, now is the time for this country to acquire a preponderating influence in that densely populated land.

The treaties now pending in the United States senate, action upon which has been so long and so unnecessarily delayed by that body, mark another step in the progress of China. That upon the subject of immigration we referred to yesterday, and showed that its ratification would work no injustice to either of the high contracting powers. That upon the important subject of commerce has received less general notice on this coast, because the presence of large numbers of the lower classes of the Chinese people here brought the subject of their immigration into peculiar prominence, but, with the indications of progress, now seen in the empire, the fact that she has a population which, when they once become a consuming people like those of Europe, will make China the greatest market in the world, makes the early establishment of favorable commercial relations with her a matter of supreme moment to a great producing country like the United States. It has taken a long time to make any impression upon the prejudices of that people, but this last treaty on the subject of commerce, which has been secured by the most peaceful means, not bulldozed out of the Chinese government, as England has got her treaties with that country, shows that seeing she could not have the isolation she had always preferred, she has evidently begun to prepare for the change of relations that is inevitable. Besides her legations to all the principal capitals, she has had a select body of young men studying the languages and learning the institutions, arts and sciences of all the principal nations. Following upon the request for the "loan of an admiral" will come a demand for assistance in the organization of systems of education, schools of agriculture and other arts. China has already expressed a preference to have her systems of development under American tuition. The Chinese are apt and ingenious scholars, and have learned the power of steam and the use of machinery for manufactories. They have already introduced steamboats on their great rivers, and are beginning to build railroads and establish factories. Hundreds of skilled mechanics will soon find employment in introducing the arts of this country and superintending their development. This will open and widen the highway for a mighty commerce one of these days between the western coast of America and China that will cover the Pacific as the trade with Europe covers the Atlantic. Nor need it be feared that by the cultivation and enlargement of our commercial relations with China our own land will be in any greater danger of being overrun by her people, whose trade is so much more desired than their presence. New methods and new appliances for living having once been generally introduced into that country, the people will have much less inclination to leave it. American systems of manufacture and agriculture will give new life to that nation of political mummies and place them among the active and potent influences in the great march of the world toward universal light and liberty. The object is an important one, and a thousand obstacles stand in the way of the establishment of the great trade possible between this coast and China, but the time for the United States to recognize this possibility and take a step toward its accomplishment seems to be at hand.

Because of the constitutional requirement that certain things be entered on the journals of the two houses of the legislature, the taxpayers of Oregon are put to hundreds of dollars of useless expense every time our lawmakers meet. We are in receipt of the journals of the session of 1880, just printed and kindly sent us by Secretary Earhart. The typographical work is well done and does not appear to have been stretched out unnecessarily by breaking short single sentences into several paragraphs in order to make "fat" both in type and paper, as has been the rule with some former printers. The books contain about as much matter as could be put into them in an intelligible shape; but they demonstrate the folly of some of the provisions of the constitution in a most elaborate manner. For instance, it is necessary to enter the ayes and noes on the journal every time they are called, and page after page in both journals is taken up with printing the names of members voting on questions of no importance whatever, as a motion to adjourn, to take a recess, to lay on the table, suspend the rules or something equally immaterial. Fully one-half of the journal is made up of this kind of matter. It is not the fault of the clerk, for he is required to insert what he has, but is only an instance of red-tapeism which sacrifices intelligibility to formality and leaves the people as ignorant of the proceedings of what their representatives have done as they would be if the state had published these journals in the Chaldaic tongue. Altogether there is a great reformation in the printing, and when once the legislature has made reformation in the matter furnished for these journals, what is necessary and intelligible will become reading of general interest to the people of the state.

Gen. Von Moltke, though very old, has lost none of his love for the calling of his younger days, as appears by a letter just published, written by him to Professor Bluntschli upon the subject of a peace congress of the great powers. He declares that he has no faith in such schemes [illegible] for war, but [illegible] for that emergency at all times. [illegible] with a collision of interests [illegible] in an extensive conflict of arms [illegible] reduced the art to an exact science, who has little faith in the capacity of nations to govern themselves, who is imperial in all his thoughts and believes the world is but a succession of great camps where the few are to rule and the many to obey. From his standpoint collisions cannot be avoided. He believes they are a part of man's as of nature's economy. But Germany's great old marshal seems to ignore the fact that civilized man has so far advanced that many differences which could formerly be settled only by the sword are decided now by law, and that a higher intelligence would enable even the most difficult questions to be settled in the same way. When the right of men to think for themselves is universally recognized, the thrones will melt away, and in the republics which will succeed them the rule will be that no ambition of a strong power will be able to make widows and loss by war upon the weaker.

A writer in one of the New York papers predicts the next war in central Europe will be a fight for existence on the part of Germany and Austria for territory by Russia, for her lost provinces by France. In view of the terror which this inevitable war excites, the United States may expect a vastly increased immigration from Europe this year, from Germany in particular. There is every reason to believe that the figures of last year—320,000—will be far surpassed this year. The new mammoth steamers of 7000 and 8000 tons, which are about to be placed on the Atlantic, are likely to be filled to the utmost of even their capacity every trip.

Bergh's society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, could find quite an extended missionary field now, among the several hundred expectant office seekers who are kept out by the senatorial deadlock. Partisan advantage is sought at a terrible cost of suspense to these hungry aspirants for official honors and emoluments. The days seem like weeks and the months past has been to them like years of duration.

Ohio is now the only October state, the vote of which will be very significant in presidential years. Three other states, Georgia, Iowa, and West Virginia, will vote in that month; Michigan and Rhode Island in April; Oregon in June; Alabama in August, and Arkansas, Maine and Vermont in September. The other states, twenty-seven in number, and all the territories, vote in November.

Peruvian Bitters.

(CINCHONA RUBRA.)

THE COUNTESS CINCHON WAS THE SPANISH Viceregal Peru in 1600. The Countess, his wife, was prostrated by an intermittent fever, from which she was freed by the use of the native remedy, the PERUVIAN BARK, or, as it was called in the language of the country, "Quinquina." Grateful for her recovery, on her return to Europe, in 1632, she introduced the remedy in Spain, where it was known under various names, until Linnæus called it Cinchona, in honor of the lady who had brought them that which was more precious than the gold of the Incas. To this day, after a lapse of two hundred and fifty years, science has given us nothing to take its place. It effectually CURES A MORBID APPETITE FOR STIMULANTS, by restoring the natural tone to the stomach. It attacks excessive love of liquor as it does a fever, and destroys both alike. The powerful tonic virtue of the CINCHONA is preserved in the

PERUVIAN BITTERS,

Which are as effective against malarial fever to-day as they were in the days of the old Spanish Viceroys.

We guarantee the ingredients of these Bitters to be ABSOLUTELY PURE, and of the best known quality. A trial will satisfy you that this is the BEST BITTERS IN THE WORLD. The proof of the pudding is in the eating," and we willingly abide this test.

CITY.

"AS IT WAS: SOUTH IN WAR TIME."—Shortly after Easter, at the Unitarian chapel, are to be given, on consecutive Wednesday evenings, three very interesting lectures by Mrs. Catharine L. Henderson, on "Life in the South during the War," and "Among the Creoles of New Orleans." The experiences of a little house held out on the borders of a great forest, with its incidents, graphic, humorous or pathetic, of those dark days, when it took $300 [illegible] to buy a pair of shoes, and expedients without number were resorted to to meet the most common necessities of apparel or food, will form the theme of the first lectures, and the manners of the creole population in New Orleans, among whom Mrs. Henderson has visited and lived, have given her a rich store from which to draw incident and anecdote, in making this a most interesting class of French-Americans. The [illegible] of building a little chapel in South Portland for a mission Sunday school which has been gathered there has led to the kind offer on her part to prepare these lectures for this public. The novelty of the themes and her rich culture will insure, we doubt not, a speedy sale of the tickets, which [illegible] for the course. The first lecture is to be Wednesday, April 27th.

DEATH OF PIERRE MANCIET.—After an illness of sixty-five days, Pierre Manciet, the well-known caterer, died at his home, corner of Second and Pine streets, at 9½ o'clock yesterday morning, aged 48 years. He was a native of Southern France, and came to Victoria in 1859, where he conducted the Hotel de France. He removed to this city in August 1868 and opened the noted Layfayette restaurant in the old Oro Fino block. Afterwards he had charge of the Cosmopolitan diningrooms, then those of the St Charles Hotel. In October last year he opened the St. George Hotel, corner First and Columbia streets, which he had built and furnished. Pierre Manciet was an honest, kind, generous man, very industrious and very charitable to the poor. He leaves a wife and ten children, the youngest 4 years old. His life was insured for $5000. The funeral will take place at 2 o'clock to-morrow afternoon from the cathedral.

IT WAS COMBUSTIBLE.—Last night a prominent young jeweler went with a party of friends into a well known First street restaurant and ordered lunch. The establishment recently bought a lot of celluloid checks which they used instead of slips of white paper. After the checks were handed to the gentleman, a discussion arose as to whether they were combustible, the jeweler insisting that they would burn, the others holding to a contrary opinion. To prove his assertion, the dealer in diamonds, as they stepped up to the counter, ignited his check, which burned brightly, lighted his cigarette and handed the cashier fifty cents. His friend smiled audibly as the attendant asked, "Twenty-five cents more, if you please, Mr. G., to pay us for that check you've just destroyed."

MR. DUTCHER'S LECTURE.—The lecture by Mr. Dutcher at the Congregational church of this city was well received by the audience. The impressions were excellent, and if enthusiasm can be created in our people on the subject of temperance we feel confident Mr. Dutcher can effect that. That gentleman lectures again to-night in the same church. At the close of the lecture an invitation was extended and a large number of persons came forward and signed the pledge. A number of those who signed were addicted to intemperance. Mr. Dutcher is a very interesting and eloquent speaker, and it is to be hoped a crowded auditorium will greet his second lecture.

O. R. & N. CO. SURVEYS IN EASTERN OREGON.—A correspondent writing from Pendleton under date of 10th says: "The O. R. & N. Co. are making surveys through Union county, and as far as Baker City in Baker county. The final location is made as far as the Dell, and all preliminary surveys necessary for location as far as Baker City. A party of surveyors under charge of Engineer E. H. Mix are camped near North Powder river, locating from a point near Union to Baker City. The located line will pass through Union on the east side of town, and will pass near Welch's mill at North Powder. The location will be completed in about four weeks.

NEW HACKS.—By the last steamer, the Oregon Transfer Co received the first of four landaus they are having built by the Cargill Manufacturing Co. of San Francisco. It appeared on the streets yesterday for the first time in charge of Frank Wilson, and was admired for its rich upholstery and handsome appearance. Frank is a favorite driver and is proud of the "boss carriage" of the city.

SUCCESSFUL EXAMINATION.—Mrs. Henry Denlinger of this city, now a student in the Woman's College of Pennsylvania, at a recent regular examination stood at the head of her class, composed of 76 ladies, and was the only one in the class who was perfect in all branches studied. Mrs. Denlinger will graduate from the college in September, 1882, when she will return to Portland to practice her profession.

WOMAN'S CHRISTIAN TEMPERANCE UNION.—This society had a very interesting and successful meeting at Hall street Methodist church yesterday. Mr. Dutcher and Mrs. Watson were present, and with Mrs. Dr. Thompson and others addressed the society. Mrs. Watson will lecture in Hall street church on Friday evening of this week, at 7:30 o'clock.

AN INDUSTRIOUS WOMAN.—A German woman and her little boy eleven years old, living in Skookum Chuck, Chehalis county, W. T., have cut this winter seventy-five cords of wood. Her husband all the while was engaged in cutting railroad ties. Truly "she riseth also while it is yet night and giveth meat to her household."

THE BRIDGE CASE.—The case of Hatch & Lownsdale vs. the Willamette Iron Bridge Co. came up for rehearing in the United States district court, Judges Sawyer and Deady presiding. Messrs. H. T. and E. W. Bingham submitted arguments for the plaintiffs. To-day, Mr. H. Y. Thompson will answer for the defendants.

ENLARGING.—Work of enlarging the fire cistern at the intersection of Third and Taylor from 12,000 to 20,000 gallons was begun by the contractors yesterday. The arch will be raised one foot to conform with the new grade.

TO PURCHASE LITHOGRAPHS.—The special committee of the common council yesterday afternoon decided to recommend the purchase of 100 copies of the birds-eye view of Portland now in the publishers' hands.

THE CAUSE.—The failure to receive passenger list of the steamer Oregon is due to the neglect of the company's agent, who did not file the list with The Oregonian's telegraphic agent in San Francisco.

CARGO OF COAL.—The barkentine North Bend arrived here yesterday and is moored at Thompson, DeHart & Co's dock. She brings a cargo of blacksmiths' coal from San Francisco.

APPOINTED ADMINISTRATOR.—John Garnold has been appointed administrator of the estate of Fred. C. Hill, who committed suicide at the Occidental hotel a few months ago.

BRIEF NOTES.

Dramatic season over.

Four more days of Lent.

The Oregon due to-night.

Stark street from First to Front is being repaired.

The boat clubs are preparing for a season of good sport.

Estes & Carter creditors' meeting, called by the assignee for 11 o'clock A. M. to-day, at the register's office.

The mud is being scraped from Third st. In a few days that thoroughfare will be a magnificent drive.

Drivers should avoid the corner of Third and Morrison which is almost impassable on account of the cistern improvement.

Next event in the way of amusements—"Pirates of Penzance"—at New Market theatre, Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings of next week.

THE COURTS.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Fresh halibut packed in ice at C. A. Malarkey's, Second and Oak.

S. B. Brigham, No. 47 First street, has the agency for "the boss" coffee pot, which saves 50 per cent. over any other method of making coffee. Their working can be seen at the Esmond house every day till further notice.

PERSONAL.

CHICAGO, April 12.—C. W. Smith, formerly general manager of the C. B. & Q. railroad, and now of [illegible], accepts the same position on the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad, from May 1st. He is an invaluable man for the place, and under his management the railroad will push to completion a new trunk line from the Atlantic seaboard to the west.

MAGNIFICENT.—Hundreds of ladies passed yesterday to admire the beautiful lace window of the "Ladies' Emporium and Lace House," 167 Third street, which rivals that of much larger cities, and far excels any exhibition ever before made in Portland. The arrangement of this display window is unique and artistic, every article is costly, superb and real, and will remain on exhibition until Thursday evening, to give the ladies of Portland an opportunity to judge of the quality of goods sold at the "Ladies' Emporium and Lace House."

Sch ol children to whom we have promised book-covers, can now obtain them free at our store; they arrived yesterday. J. K. Gill & Co., 93 First st.

AMUSEMENTS.

MISS ROGERS' BENEFIT.—A large and cultivated audience was present at New Market theater last evening, the occasion being the farewell performance of the Baldwin Theater Company and the benefit tendered Miss Katherine Rogers. Sheridan Knowles' beautiful play of "Hunchback" was the piece produced.

The character of Julia was assumed by Miss Rogers. It was one of that lady's best and happiest efforts. She dressed the part in exquisite taste, and invested the role with all that true womanly tenderness intended by the author dramatist. The lighter scenes were characterized by vivacity and sprightly grace, and the more exciting ones acted with an intensity and vehemence calling [illegible] dramatic qualities of a high order.

The debut of Mrs. D. F. Smith, who essayed the character of "Helen," must be recorded as a very gratifying success. It was an occasion for self-congratulation on the part of the lady. As a reader and elocutionist, Mrs. Smith is very familiar to the Portland public, but last evening she made her first appearance as an exponent of the dramatic art. She succeeded in investing the part with no ordinary interest as a debutante. Her lines were read distinctly and with an elocutionary finish which displayed long and thorough study of that difficult art. She dressed the part richly and in very correct taste, while her acting enjoyed a very noticeable absence of stiffness or ungracefulness. There was no lack of sprightliness in her manner, though, in no respect was the part overacted. Mr. A. D. Bradley, who has for some time past been giving Mrs. Smith dramatic instructions, has reason to feel proud of his pupil; and the debutante every reason to feel encouraged in her first histrionic effort. There was no want of appreciation on the part of the audience. Both ladies were honored with calls before the curtain, and were the recipients of handsome floral tributes.

Mr. Grisner as "Sir Thomas Clifford" appeared to unusual advantage. His personation of the part was characterized by all the ease, grace and precision of a thoroughly finished and conscientious artist, as he is.

Mr. Colton as "Master Walter," deserves special complimentary mention. His acting of the part allotted was such as to leave little or nothing to be desired. In connection with the ladies Mr. Colton was honored with a call before the curtain.

Mr. Norris as "Modus" gave a very acceptable piece of acting, while Mr. Jennings' "Fathom" was deficient in none of the essentials of comedy.

This morning the entire company will sail for San Francisco on the outgoing steamer. While the dramatic season has not proved as successful, in a financial sense, as its merit deserved, it has afforded all lovers of thoroughly legitimate art a rare treat.

THE OREGON PACIFIC RAILROAD.

Yaquina Bay.

At the monthly meeting of the council of the Linn county grange, held at Grand Prairie Grange No. 20, April 2, Mr. Wallis Nash attended by special invitation and delivered an address on the present position of the enterprise, and specially explained the plans of the engineers for carrying out the improvements now in progress at Yaquina bay.

After full discussion, the following resolutions were unanimously passed:

Whereas, It appears that the $10,000 just appropriated by congress in support of the work for improving the Yaquina harbor entrance is not sufficient to provide for the vigorous prosecution of the work; and,

Whereas, The completion of the improvement is an object of deep interest to the whole farming population of the Willamette valley, and especially to the farmers of Linn county, because of the important influence of the improvement on the completion of the Oregon Pacific railroad connecting the Willamette valley with Yaquina bay; and,

Whereas, This council deems it desirable at this juncture to make a public united effort in aid of this object; therefore,

Resolved, That steps be taken by this council to call a public convention of the farmers of the valley counties at Albany within the next twenty-one days, to adopt such steps as may appear best to prove the public interest in this object, and to contribute to its attainment. And that measures be adopted to call public attention and to arouse one common effort for this end; and,

Resolved, That a public convention for that purpose, of all interested, be held at the court house at Albany, Thursday, April 21, at 11 o'clock A. M., and that these resolutions be advertised in the valley papers; and,

Resolved, That the president, agent and secretary be asked and they are hereby nominated a committee to call and organize the above convention.

NEWS NOTES FROM EUGENE.

REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE OF THE OREGONIAN.

EUGENE, April 11, 1881.

Spring is very early and vegetation is very forward.

Mr. and Mrs. Bell Jennings leave Eugene to-day for Creswell, where they intend staying for a couple of months and will be the guests of Mr. Stephen Martin.

Mr. Thomas Belshaw and Richard Martin, Esq. of Creswell paid Eugene a visit yesterday and report crops in that locality as growing very fast, also a large acreage sown this year.

A few of our hop growers are enlarging their hop acreage. Mr. Walker Young intends planting six acres and Mr. J. B. Brown has bought the farm owned by Mrs. G. W. Bond and has just finished planting a yard of 25 acres. This makes Mr. Brown 31 acres in cultivation.

Work is being pushed forward on the Eugene bridges. Some very heavy and substantial oak piling has been driven and will in a short time be ready for the bents. Mr. Jerry Renn has the superintendency of the work and is devoting considerable time and attention to the same.

Our farmers have taken the matter in hand and intend to construct a trail down the Siuslaw river, our county commissioners taking no interest in the matter. It has been demonstrated from surveys made that the water is more than a foot and a half deeper at the Siuslaw than at the Yaquina bar.

SUPREME COURT.

SALEM, April 12, 1881.

The court met at 10:30 o'clock A. M., full bench being present.

J. H. Pomeroy resp. vs. J. H. Lappeus app., judgment of the circuit court affirmed. Opinion by Watson, J.

SYLLABUS.

Where it becomes necessary to plead a city ordinance, a mere reference to it by number, title and date of enactment, is not sufficient. It must be set forth in the pleading, as any other fact of which the courts take no judicial notice.

In a proceeding of habeas corpus the court to which the writ is returnable acquires jurisdiction to make a final order in the cause, by the service of the writ upon the defendant while the prisoner is still in his custody, and such jurisdiction cannot be ousted by any act of the defendant, without the sanction of the court.

William A. Gleason vs. William Van Arsdale; on trial.

State of Oregon ex rel., W. F. Benjamin vs. The Douglas County Road Company; reargument of motion to dismiss appeal set for 10 o'clock to-morrow.

John W. Hugill vs. M. J. Kinney; set for hearing at 10 o'clock A. M., Thursday.

Ordered that the court take a recess until [illegible] P. M.

THE STATE OF RELIGION

In the Presbyterian Congregation, Portland, Oregon—Addressed to the Presbytery of Oregon, March 31, 1881.

Public worship on the Sabbath and on Thursday evening, a general prayer meeting, a ladies' prayer meeting and a monthly concert are maintained.

As in former years, city missionary work is carried on by the pastor, with occasional help from members of the church.

The Chinese school, which was referred to in the last report, is fully equipped and in operation. The first fruits have been gathered in.

The spiritual condition of the people is slowly advancing. The varied elements of the [illegible] population increase the difficulties of the pastoral work. Strangers do not feel the obligation to make themselves known to the church to which they belong, and some professors take the opportunity to conceal their church relations and hide their light. Others are inaccessible and [illegible] Christian people come and go without any means of knowing [illegible] where they are.

President Garfield's Mother.

The Peoria, Ill., Journal of March 18 prints the following letter from the aged mother of President Garfield to her cousin, Mrs. Mary Flint, of Peoria. The letter is written in a peculiar handwriting, with age, but the letters are well made:

WHITE HOUSE, March 1, 1881.

MY DEAR COUSIN: I received your good letter a year or two ago. I would answered sooner, but waited to get my picture. I have one, and will send you one, though they are not good. I am happy to tell you that we are all pretty well but a good deal tired out. We have passed through the great rush of people for the last six months that I ever saw. Since the inauguration it is one steady stream of friends calling. It takes pretty much all the time to entertain them. They want to see the president's mother. I am the first mother that has occupied the White House and seen her son president, but I am very thankful for such a son. I don't like the word proud, but if I must use it, I think in this case it is quite appropriate. How many times my mind goes back to our early school days, but changes take place. I have seen sorrowful days. I have seen happy days. I was once young and am now old, but I have never seen the righteous forsaken or his seed begging his bread. I have got a very pleasant room, nicely furnished, and waited on by the very best manner possible. Now I want you to write to me. Our folks all send love to you, with very much love, I remain, your aged cousin,

WEDNESDAY MORNING, APRIL 13, 1881.

SCENES OF YOUTH

[For the Oregonian.]

My soul returns in dreamings
To the [illegible] days of yore,
To the days whose joys and sorrows
Are fled forever more.

[illegible] over the way [illegible]
The castle turrets rise,
And the scenes of happy childhood
Greet my weary, aged eyes.

I recognize the towers,
The archway and the door,
I enter at the gateway,
And pass the bridge [illegible]

Through the [illegible] old park I wander,
Along the well-known way,
[illegible] the courtyard [illegible]
With time-crown'd [illegible]

I greet the well known faces
Of comrades [illegible] and dear,
I hear the pleasant voices
Which I never more shall hear.

[illegible] the moss-grown fountain,
And the flowers are as gay
As when beneath their fragrance
I dreamed my youth away.

Oh, yours [illegible] memory!
Could I [illegible] behold
Into the forms I love so well,
Those loving friends of old.

Could I but for a moment
Revisit as a child
Those scenes of youthful pleasure
Of my boyhood free and wild,

I would crave to live no longer,
But would freely lay my head
'Neath the flowers by the fountain,
And be happy with the dead.

GENTLE SPRING.

De gentle Spring am almost here,
De sun am gettin' high,
De snow am get [illegible] slidin' out,
De [illegible] begins to fly.

In thirty days or dar abouts
De grass will take its green;
An' all of us kin slosh aroun'
In April mud [illegible]

De robin will begin to [illegible],
De bluebird will feel blue;
De crow will crow [illegible] on his way,
De buzzards buz anew.

Now let us all feel proper glad,
An' lose no time indeed,
In castin' 'round among our friends
To borry [illegible] seed.

A CONDENSED NOVEL.

An Affecting Tale of the Times, from the Spanish.

The last gleam of day was silvering the waters of the Guadalquivir, at the mouth of which stands the ancient City of Valencia. Above other buildings rose the tower of Miquilet, with its bell sending its solemn tones far and near, calling the inhabitants to prayer. Far as the eye could reach extended the fertile Valley Huerta Valencia, studded with thriving villages, vineyards and cottages, bound by the sea in the distance and surrounded in the lofty mountains of Catalonia. The stars were gemming the fields of azure and the crescent moon ascending the vault of heaven; it was indeed a night of beauty—a scene to attune the mind to happiness and peace.

The service had ceased, and the congregation was slowly departing from the Cathedral of Saint Cecilius. Among the last of the worshipers was a young female closely shrouded in a mantilla, yet of so thin a texture was it that her face and figure were almost perceptible. In her hand she carried a fan of the most exquisite workmanship, but seemingly more for ornament than use; behind her hobbled an old duenna, who with difficulty kept pace with the tripping feet of Donna Isabella, for such was the name of the maiden. Close by her side walked a young and noble looking cavalier, whose deep dark eye was riveted upon her, while ever and anon glances of recognition were exchanged between them, till at length the suspicion of the old lady was aroused, who shouldered aside the youth, and, seizing the arm of her young charge, quitted her not till they reached a noble mansion in the neighborhood of the ever-verdant Glorietta.

But the young cavalier was not to be thwarted in his design, which was to convey to his lady love a billet of appointment; nor was Donna Isabella deficient of invention in favoring the wishes of her lover, for, just as she was on the eve of ascending the stairs leading to her mansion, she dropped her fan, as if by accident. The opportunity was immediately seized by the young cavalier, who, lifting it, unseen to the duenna slipped within its folds a billet, and kneeling presented it to the blushing girl.

"You are too kind," murmured the maiden in tones of silvery sweetness.

"Don't mention it, Belle," was the cavalier's reply, as he gently brushed away with a silk handkerchief [illegible] the right boot.

At this moment the duenna began to act impatiently. "Leave me, Pedro," said the young girl, imploringly.

"You will not fail to meet me, as the note says," he whispered beseechingly. "You understand?"

"I tumble," was the maid's reply.

That night, when the bell of Miquilet told the midnight hour, Isabella stood in her balcony, which overhung the garden. A slight movement was soon heard among the orange foliage, and a tall figure, shrouded in a flowing mantle, advanced and stood beneath the balcony.

"Are you ready?" asked the mask.

"O K!" answered the maiden, in a breath scarce audible from terror.

"Secure then this ladder to the rails and descend." And throwing a ladder of silken cords, it was caught by Isabella, who having fastened it as desired, the next moment she was in the arms of her lover.

"Now, then for the chapel of the nearest justice of the peace. Ere the sun-glints fall upon the Alhambra saloon you will be mine."

"That morning you must never see," cried a man who advanced from an umbrageous shrubbery close by, and struck Pedro a powerful blow behind the left ear.

"I am slugged!" cried the unfortunate man as he sank senseless into the arms of his assailant, who bore him swiftly away.

The next morning Donna Isabella was buried in grief and a percale wrapper. Corsetless, and with tear-stained cheeks, she sought her mother. "They have taken my Pedro," she cried, despairingly. "Who could have done it?"

"It must have been the ten-spot or jack," responded the mother. "Nothing less than that can take the pedro."

In one corner of the Valencia cemetery may be seen a grave, kept hallowed by flowers which loving hands have strewn upon it. It is the grave of the Donna Isabella. She died at the age of 73, having raised seven children. This is not romantic, but you can bet on its being a center shot on the truth.

Is thorough in its Medicinal Action, and yet so agreeable to the taste that patrons often disregard our injunction to divide the lozenge into parts (say two doses) to meet their respective cases. At the outset it is especially essential to observe the directions closely till one becomes accustomed to its use — when mild action and the most satisfactory results are sure to follow.

Ladies and children, and those who dislike taking pills and nauseous medicines to secure cathartic action, are especially pleased with its agreeable qualities.

Try it once, and you will esteem it highly as a safe, pleasant, and effective remedy.
